APPELLATION BEAUJOLAIS CONTRÔLÉEDomaine
du Guéret

Domaine du GUERET

Appellation

VIN ROUGE

Beaujolais

Varietal : 100% Gamay

Vinification : Harvested by hand, the grapes are processed as bunches, according to the traditional method of the Beaujolais, and then the wine is partially matured in oak casks in cellars dating from the 18th century.

Character: A bright cherry red dress. Complexe aromas of redfruits and blackfruits (blueberry, blackcurrent, strawberry) on the noze. The attack is fruity and persistant on the palate. Silky tannins gives a long finish.

Gastronomy : Paupiette of veal, poultry

Serving temperature: 16 °C.

Cellaring : 2 years

Estate : Situated in Chénas, in the North of Beaujolais, the Guéret estate has belonged for several generations to the Favre-Curtelin family, the family of Catherine Delaunay. It spreads over 13 hectares: 3.4 hectares in Saint-Germain-sur-l'Arbresle within the Beaujolais appellation and around 10 hectares within the Moulin-à-Vent appellation, in a place called La Bruyère. This South-facing vineyard planted with old Gamay vines, has one of the best soils of this appellation. Since 2005, Catherine Delaunay-Favre, recognized as one of the best oenologists of her generation, oversees the wine making and maturing process. The recent death of her father led her to also supervise the whole wine production.
