MARCH 2018

90
POINTS

Priest Ranch's 2015 Cabernet Sauvignon is terrific. A rush of inky, super-ripe blue/purplish fruit, spice, lavender, new leather and menthol gives the wine considerable appeal. Even with all of its raciness, the 2015 is not at all overdone, rather it is remarkably nuanced and light on its feet. Best of all, the Priest Ranch Cabernet Sauvignon offers terrific quality for what is a very modest price by Napa Valley standards.

Don't miss it.
